Abbey Harms provides relationship development through natural horsemanship and believes that by looking at the world from a horse's perspective, humans are offered a powerful opportunity to connect and communicate with horses so a balanced, respectful and safe relationship can be established. Working from an empathic perspective, students experience step-by-step instruction and communication founded in detailed understanding of the horse's perspective and learn to experience how horses enjoy being with humans. We will learn techniques using pressure and release to teach and communicate. This will create a bond that is mutually respectful, safe and fun.

After 15+ years of working with horses professionally, Karen Partisch began a career in therapeutic bodywork, specializing in Craniosacral Therapy. Karen has discovered that with this light touch therapy, a conversation can take place facilitating the patient's healing on every level -- whether they have two legs or four. Trained through the Advanced levels in CST, Karen shares her passion through teaching, mentoring, intensive and individual treatment sessions. She has a thriving CST practice based in Sarasota, FL, treating a wide variety of therapeutic issues including general wellness, neurologic and autoimmune issues on two and four legged clients.
